Class

As the fulfillment of our goal draws near, we the seniors of 1958 look back upon the pathways we have traveled during our ascent to the position of seniors. As we look back we see many happy occasions.

First we see ourselves a group of excited eighth graders on the way to Raleigh. On the way we stopped at Chapel Hill and viewed the Planetarium and Kenan Stadium. The trip was very enjoyable. Our eighth grade pathway ended with graduation, sixty-two strong, but fearful about what high school life would be like.

• • • • •

In the fall of 1954 our separate paths brought us together as high school freshmen. The seniors set us in place by initiating us to the theme of "Circus Characters." Our frowns were turned to smiles when they gave us a party for our good sportsmanship. Eight students represented our class in the athletic department that year. The final act of our freshman year was giving the seniors a farewell party and with final exams completed our pathways separated for three months of vacation.

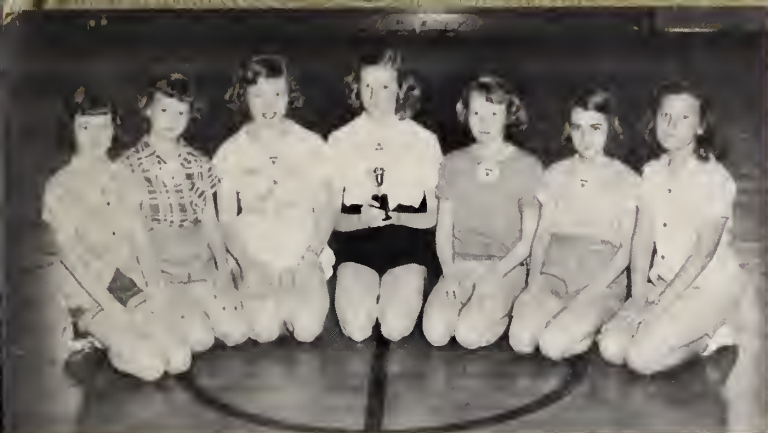

• • • • •

Under the careful guidance of our sponsors, we began our sophomore year with anticipation and ambition while ten of our classmates were missing from our number. That year the Glee Club claimed five members of our class and three representatives to go to the State

History

Music Festival in Greensboro. Thirteen members participated in athletics. After midterms, thirteen were initiated into the Beta Club.

In the fall of 1956, fifty-six members trod the path back to J. H. S. as juniors. We realized we had a hard year ahead and tackled it with renewed anticipation. We welcomed our new principal, Mr. Swain, and settled down to work. A successful and exciting event was the junior play, "Rehearsal for Death." Eleven students went out for sports that year. Hard work and cooperation brought around the night we had long awaited, the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet. Our theme was "Springtime". But the most thrilling time of our junior year was when we received our class rings.

So the well worn path brought us back for our senior year. The first week of school we began work on the 8th edition of the Blue Jay, soliciting ads from our very cooperative business firms. We tackled the yearbook with enthusiasm but learned that it was work—but interesting.

As we go to press, we've initiated the freshmen as television characters and placed 10 members on athletic teams. We are looking forward to the senior play and the trip to Washington.

As we look into the past we see many happy and successful pathways we have traveled and we realize that after we receive our diplomas we must choose other pathways and we sincerely hope that we will choose one that will lead us to a happier and more successful life.

Finger Polka.

Watch out, it bites!

Music hath charm.

Does it really sound like the ocean?

Strictly for the birds.

Promenade all.

Strolling through the art gallery.

Sloppy fun. Right?

Christmas presents in the making.

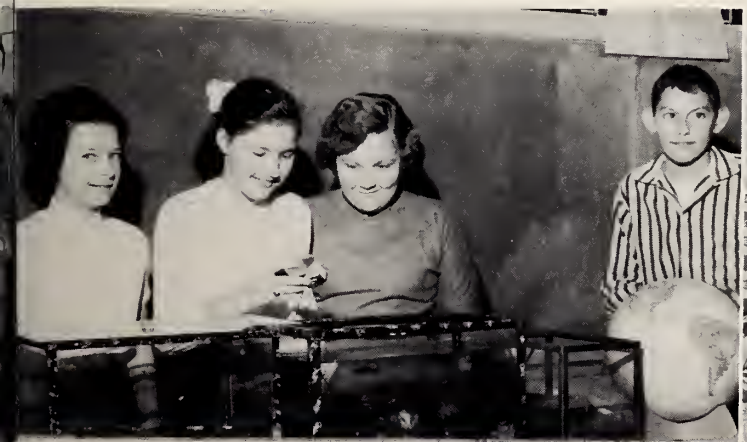

"Who caught all these butterflies"? Mrs. Rash.

"Does Sputnik really go that fast?"

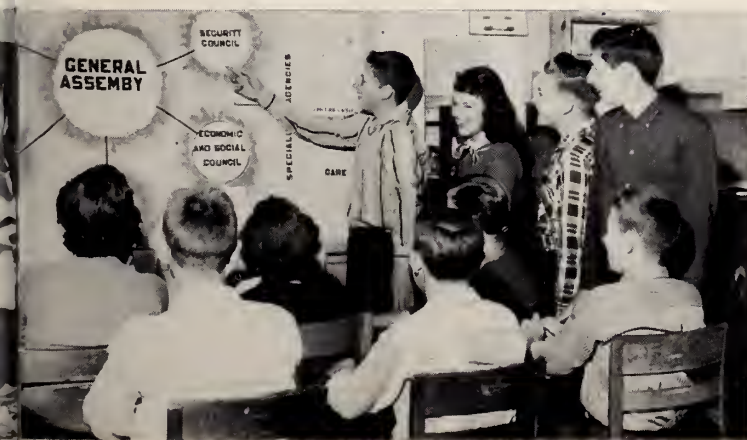

They'll be at home in space.

"Is this enough, Mr. West?"

Science is a popular subject.

Future world leaders?

Who is ready to recite?

It looks like Billy Gentry has no competition.

There's no time out for referees!

Our cheerleaders share in the spotlight turned on players and royalty.

prove the victories.

It is very fitting that our athletic field should be named for Mrs. Lila Swaim. She was always a loyal supporter of Jonesville in athletic contests as well as other school programs. In appreciation of such loyal support the Jonesville community will complete the field dedicated October 17, 1957 to Mrs. Lila Swaim.

and awards and wonder what our future holds.

Will Fred Rash and Barbara Martin ever be medical technicians?

Don't tell me that Johnny Martin and Jerry Pardue are going to defend our country?

So fitting that Mildred Armstrong and Bonnie Vestal be beauticians.

Clay Weatherman, Richard Macemore and Sammy Benton will make good farmers, won't they?

Don't you think that Nancy Cook, Stacie Bryant and Janice Chipman will make good homemakers?

Johnny Sturdivant, Junior Macemore, and Homer Gentry will make a good crew of mechanics won't they?

Will the team and pupils of Billy Gentry, Laura Triplett, Roger Pickett, Alyce Burch and Virginia Dowell succeed or lose?

Will Erna Shaffner, Terry Weatherman, Bobby Dezern, and Annette Ferguson succeed in the business world?

Wilda Haynes, Mattie Finney, Shelva Haynes, and Sylvia Stokes look as though they will enjoy being clerks.
